INTRODUCTION

The family papers of banker Joseph Toy Howell, Sr. (1853-1929), his wife, Amanda Lindsay Howell, and son, Joseph Toy Howell, Jr. and father, Robert Boyte Crawford Howell, were given to the Manuscript Section by Joseph Toy Howell, Jr.

There are 1000 items in this collection. There are no restrictions on the materials. Single photocopies of unpublished writing in the Howell Family Papers may be made for purposes of scholarly research.

For additional information, see also the Joseph Toy Howell, Sr., Papers, 1860-1918, accession number 1993.004.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Howell Papers containing approximately 1000 items, for the period 1785-1941, are composed of correspondence, genealogical data, school records, Masonic items, early Tennessee records, indentures, wills, five bound volumes of sermons of R.B.C. Howell, an autograph album and some writing and speeches.

The earliest items in the Collection are those dealing with the Tennessee pioneer Joseph Brown, who was captured while on his way to Tennessee from North Carolina. He was held for several years by the Indians and finally released. He was an ancestor of Mrs. Joseph T. Howell, Sr. These records contain the following items:

A Survey of Revolutionary Grant of James Brown, 1785; A listing of the property taken by the Indians, 1788 (photostats); An order for Joseph Brown to appear r as witness at a mutiny trial, 1814 signed by John Sevier; Letters of Joseph Brown to the President of the United States and Judge Grundy, 1822 (photostats); and a 24 page Navigator's Record kept by Joseph Brown for the trip from the mouth of the Ohio to New Orleans.

These are all original records with the exception of two marked photostats.

The correspondence includes copies twelve letters written by Joanna Rucker, a niece of Mrs. James K. Polk, to Miss Elizabeth Price while she was visiting in the White House 1845-1847. There are some genealogical items dealing with the Howell and Lindsay families.

One of the most interesting items in the collection is the autograph album kept by Samuel C. Pointer while a student at the University of Virginia, 1852-1853. The album contains pictures of the University at that time, its founder, Thos. Jefferson, and some of the professors. Many of the professors have written in the album opposite their pictures. The pictures include Gessner Harrison, M. Schele De Vere, Edward H. Courtenay, W. B. Rogers, R. E. Rogers, James L. Cabell, H. Howard, W. H. McGuffey, John B. Minor, and J. S. Davis.

There are five volumes containing sermons of R. B. C. Howell, a well known Baptist Minister of the nineteenth century who served churches in Norfolk and Richmond, Virginia, and Nashville, Tennessee. Each volume contains a table of contents listing the titles of the sermons. R. B. C. Howell was the father of Joseph T. Howell, Sr.

There is one letter written by Joseph T. Howell, Sr. dated 1864 and some other correspondence of members of the family, reports of Joseph T. Howell, Jr. from Duncan Preparatory School and Vanderbilt University, a scrapbook partly filled with clippings and partly a home made arithmetic, a few photographs, some writing, and memorabilia make up the remainder of the collection.
